W. D. Harrington was on Monday with his cotton gin. He has a fine one and is doing well.

Thos. Farrell, who has been in town for some time, has been seen in town Thursday.

Landlord Driscoll was on Wednesday with his daughter, Mrs. E. B. Moden, who returned from a visit to her mother.

Han Light, one of the experienced miners, was on Wednesday with his son, who is a student at the school.

R. P. Irving, connected with the U. S. Geological Survey, was on Wednesday with his family.

There was a pleasant day on the night of January 1st, and a number of people were out for a walk.

Miss Mary E. Campbell, of Davenport, Iowa, recently arrived in Florence, to visit her brother, Geo. W. Campbell.

Will A. Smith has leased the residence of the late Judge Ruggles and will occupy it as soon as his furniture arrives.

Eugene A. Brown, of the Moral and Scientific Commission, has gone to Tucson to spend a couple of weeks with friends.

Arrangements are about perfected for clearing and planting six or eight sections of new land along the Florence canal, aggregating nearly 6000 acres.

A large number of mine owners held a "switch meeting" in the mountains Tuesday night, and saved the expense of assessment work by relocating their claims.

The tops of the Pinal mountains have been covered with snow for the past week, and a coolness of temperature in the valley has resulted therefrom.

Robert W. Williams and his family have been suffering from the bad effects of the disease.

Mrs. W. J. Bley, Miss Nettie Bley, Miss Cranston and Mrs. Geo. F. Cook came down from Dudleyville and spent New Year's day at Mr. Bley's residence.

A little California mail reached Florence on Thursday evening, bringing the dates up to December 27th, and the bulk of the delayed material came in last evening, and consisted of an accumulation of four days' mail.

The piano tuner and musical ruler, A. Reduelli, was prevented by the storm of last week from reaching Florence. He writes that he will start again tomorrow and will arrive on Monday or Tuesday.

Jerre Fryer lost a valuable horse a few days ago. W. P. Blair was returning from Casa Grande with the team attached to a buggy and alighted on the road without taking the precaution of tying the horses. The animals became frightened and started off on a run across the country and in their route an unfortunate mesquite stump was encountered which impaled one of the horses and caused its death. The other broke away and came into Florence that evening. The buggy was considerably damaged.

The following letter of inquiry is one of many of a similar nature received by THE ENTERPRISE in relation to the mines and management of the company named:

YORK, Pa., Dec 17th, 1889.
ESTABLISHED - I am the 15th of April 1888, there was issued by the Tortilla Gold and Silver Mining Co. of New York, (Joseph H. Reall, President) a circular headed "What Expert Evidence Shows," in which you, among others, are quoted as having examined the works and property of this company and pronounced everything straight and prospects bright for a big yield. It happened to be one of the fortunate owners of Tortilla stock and I am out just $100. I have not heard from the officers of the company since the summer of '88, and diligent search in New York fails to find any trace of the company. I can ill afford to bear the loss of even the amount I invested, and so have written you in good faith for any information you may have in regard to this company. But it exists either on paper or I hardly imagine you would have lent your name to such a scheme as this if it was a bogus affair.

You will excuse the liberty I take in addressing you, but I have your address from the circular, and have written you, believing you will answer me frankly and promptly. I shall be pleased to reciprocate the kindness in any way I can.

I am, &c.—
As a general reply THE ENTERPRISE will state that the mines formerly owned by the Tortilla company, at the Owl Head, in this county, are among the richest and best producers in Arizona. They are proving even superior to the predictions of THE ENTERPRISE, quoted in the prospectus of the company above referred to, and are yielding the most satisfactory returns to the present management. The ores are exceedingly rich and much of them now native silver in very attractive quantities. The Enterprise has been given its endorsement of these mines and does so now, but of the company of which Joseph H. Reall was president it has said nothing for it possessed no positive knowledge of its merits as a legitimate corporation. So far as its operations here are concerned the utmost secrecy has been observed and the public is utterly ignorant of its existence. It is generally believed, however, that the mines passed out of its ownership and that, but the details of the transaction are not known.

Developments, and the quality of the ore, and the amount of development determine their value. No man competent to accurately measure what is below or beyond the actual evidence presented to his vision; but experience has demonstrated that conditions conforming to certain established rules give a reasonable certainty of what may be expected by further search. Upon these several bases of belief the best judgment of experienced miners has been fully verified in the workings of the mines in question, and the Enterprise is said to be better than ever before.
